

The Role of the State and the Future of Higher Education in the UK, Japan and Continental Europe

Friday 11th March & Saturday 12th March 2011
Nissan Institute of Japanese Studies, University of Oxford

Convenors: Roger Goodman and Takehiko Kariya, Nissan Institute of Japanese Studies

Friday 11th March

Overview and introduction

10.00-10.30 Professor Takehiko Kariya, 'The Importance of Comparative Research on Higher Education Reform'

Japan
10.30-11.30 Professor Motohisa Kaneko, 'The State and Public Higher Education in Japan'

11.30-12.30 Professor Aya Yoshida, 'The State and Private Higher Education in Japan'

Continental Europe

13.30-14.30 Professor Christian Galan, 'What Japan Tells us about the State and the Future of Higher Education in France'

14.30-15.30 Dr Hubert Ertl 'The State and German Higher Education: An overview in the light of post-Bologna reforms'

15.30-16.30 Dr Paola Mattei, 'The reforms of the Italian Universities since the 1990s: Pressures and Controversies'

Keynote Talk
5.00-6.00 Professor Ronald Dore, 'Higher Education and the State in Japan and elsewhere: Lessons from the OECD Japan Report of 1971 and since'

6.00-7.00 Reception

Saturday 12th March

UK

9.00-10.00 Professor Ivor Crewe, 'The State and the Pre-92 Universities in the UK'

10.00-11.00 Professor David Watson, 'UK HE and the binary dilemma: whatever happened to public sector higher education (PSHE)?'

Roundtable discussion Chair: Professor Roger Goodman; Discussant: Dr Fumi Kitagawa, 'Higher Education and the State: Future Directions'
11.30-13.00

The workshop is free and open to the public but space is limited and all those who wish to register participate in the workshop and attend the Reception at 6.00 p.m. on Friday, 11th March must register with Miss. Jane Baker (jane.baker@nissan.ox.ac.uk; Tel: 01865-274570) by March 1st at the latest.

The Nissan Institute is grateful to the Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs for its financial support of the workshop.