

Asian Studies Centre,
St Antony's College, University of Oxford
The Southeast Asia Seminar

Understanding Indonesia's Post-Independence Elite: Data from the Constitutional Assembly

Syahrul Hidayat (University of Exeter; University of Indonesia)
Kevin W. Fogg (Oxford Centre for Islamic Studies)

2 p.m., Wednesday 25th October,
Deakin Room, St Antony's College

Using previously un-mined data on more than 600 members of Indonesia's Constitutional Assembly (1956-1959), this seminar will present a detailed picture of the political elites of post-independence Indonesia. The data, self-reported by members, includes age, educational level, past organizational activity, gender distribution, and more. This allows broader conclusions about the nature of a post-decolonization elite in the world's largest Muslim country.

All are welcome

Convenor: Dr M Walton.
Enquiries: asian@sant.ox.ac.uk or 01865-274559

Picture: Members of the 1956-59 Indonesian Constitutional Assembly. All rights reserved.

St Antony's College is a registered charity (number 1141293)