St Antony’s College E-Newsletter: November 2021

Dear Antonians,

Welcome to the November 2021 E-Newsletter, in which you can find a letter from the Development Office updating you on the final pieces of the Hilda Besse Campaign (including recent pictures), our next steps and recent staffing changes, an entry from the College’s Sustainability Blog, two new podcasts and the announcement of an upcoming webinar on ‘extractive communities’. You will also find information on how to send through your updates for inclusion in The Antonian and how to stay in touch with the College.

All the best from Woodstock Road,

Charlotte, Jane, Sara and Wouter

The Development Team

Letter from the Development Office

‘A brief update on the final bits of the Hilda Besse renovation campaign, next steps we are aiming to take and staff changes in the Development Office.’

Oxford Preservation Trust Award for St Antony’s
The refurbishment of the Hilda Besse Building was recognised by the Oxford Preservation Trust as the best building conservation project in 2021.

Sustainability Article - Tanya Baldwin and Alice Freeman

'We delighted nonetheless in the dawn chorus of doves, pigeons, blue tits, goldfinches, blackbirds and dunnocks.'

Webinar with Miles Larmer and Sacha Hepburn

Join Professor Miles Larmer (St Antony's) and Dr Sacha Hepburn (DPhil History, 2013) on 22 November at 6pm GMT as they discuss 'why extractive communities are so poor when they provide minerals central to the global economy.'

St Antony's Looks at the World Podcasts

We have produced eleven podcasts so far in our series, on a range of subjects. Our latest is with Martin Vander Weyer (The Spectator, St Antony's) and Richard Lesmoir-Gordon (Wilmington Capital, DPhil candidate in History St Antony's), discussing Martin's recent book The Good, the Bad and the Greedy: Why We've Lost Faith in Capitalism.

Palgrave Macmillan St Antony's Series and Podcast

Despite the pandemic's impact on the College's usual activity and our daily lives, the Palgrave Macmillan St Antony's series has flourished, with a full pipeline of exciting new titles in planning or production. Listen to a podcast based one of the latest titles as Prof Rosemary Foot interviews Dr Xiaoyu Lu about his monograph Norms, Storytelling and International Institutions in China.

Leaving a Gift in Your Will to St Antony's

'St Antony's depends on the generosity of its friends and supporters to continue to flourish.'

Staying in touch with St Antony's

We are always keen to celebrate alumni success, whether it be a career change, a recent award, family news or a book publication. To have these updates included in the next issue of The Antonian, please email alumni.office@sant.ox.ac.uk

We have active social media accounts on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram, plus a professional network on LinkedIn.

To stay in touch with the College and receive invitations to events in your region please update your details.

During term time, we send a weekly bulletin of events at the College, which you can opt into.
