

International Gender Studies, Lady Margaret Hall
Programme for Modern Burmese Studies, St Antony's College

Towards Democracy and Reconciliation: Challenges Facing Myanmar's Incoming Government

Monday 15th February 2016, Lady Margaret Hall

Schedule

9:00-9:15: Coffee/tea

9:15-9:30: Welcome and Introduction

Maria Jaschok, International Gender Studies: Welcome

Daw Khin Mar Mar Kyi and Matthew J Walton: Introduction and Framing

9:30-10:45: Politics and Governance

Hervé Lemahieu, International Institute for Strategic Studies

Military-Civil Relations in Myanmar: The Return of Diarchy?

Min Min, Assistance Association for Political Prisoners- Burma

Political Prisoners and Democratic Transition in Burma

Zunetta Herbert, Partners Asia

Laws and Ethics: Challenges for Legal Justice in Myanmar

10:45-12:00: Sustainable Development

Rowan Ryrie, Independent Consultant

Supporting Communities to Achieve Sustainable Large-Scale Investment

Julian Kirchherr, University of Oxford

Myanmar's Energy Challenge: Drivers, Key Issues and Policy Options

Reshmi Banerjee, University of Oxford

Land Conflicts: Dispossession, Dispute, Devastation

12:00-13:30: Break for lunch

13:30-14:45: Societal Interventions

Khin Mar Mar Kyi, University of Oxford

Military Legacy, Gender and Democratisation in Burma/ Myanmar

Matthew J Walton, University of Oxford

Religious Freedom and Religious Conflict

Marie Lall, University College London

Education Challenges

Alex Bescoby, Integrity

A Friend in Need? Opportunities and Challenges for the NLD posed by Overseas Aid

14:45-16:00: Displacement, ethnicity and peace

Kai Htang Lashi, Kachin Relief Fund

A Kachin Perspective on Continued Conflict and Expectations for the Future of IDPs

Kirsten McConnachie, University of Warwick

Dealing with Displacement in Myanmar's Peace Process

Richard Dolan, University of Oxford

Ethnic Politics in New Waters: Managing Hope and Expectation

16:00-16:30: Concluding Comments

All participants

Co-sponsored by the International Gender Studies Centre, Lady Margaret Hall and the Programme on Modern Burmese Studies, St Antony's College and convened by Dr Daw Khin Mar Mar Kyi, Daw Aung San Suu Kyi Gender Research Fellow, International Gender Studies, Lady Margaret Hall and Dr Matthew J Walton, Aung San Suu Kyi Senior Research Fellow in Modern Burmese Studies, St Antony's College.

Enquiries: asian@sant.ox.ac.uk or tel: 01865-274559