Khalil Maleki
The Human Face of Iranian Socialism

Tuesday, 23 October at 5pm

Investcorp Auditorium, St Antony's College

Chair: Stephanie Cronin (St Antony's College)

Khalil Maleki (1901-1969) was a selfless campaigner for democracy and social welfare in twentieth-century Iran. His was a unique approach to politics, prioritising the criticism of policies detrimental to his country's development over the pursuit of power itself. An influential figure, he was at the centre of such formative events as the split of the communist Tudeh party, and the 1953 coup and its aftermath. In an age of intolerance and uncompromising confrontation, Maleki remained an indefatigable advocate for open discussion and peaceful reform - a stance that saw him jailed several times. This work makes a compelling case for him to be regarded among the foremost thinkers of his generation.

Signed copies of the Khalil Maleki book will be available to purchase after the event for £15 (cash only).
