Women's Rights in the Middle East Seminar

Women in 'new Turkey': The story of how we lost ground

Ezgi Başaran

(St Antony's College, Oxford University)

Abstract

This seminar aims to give a snapshot of women's rights in Turkey during Justice and Development Party (AKP) era. It will attempt to analyse the political discourse on gender equality and how it affects matters relating to legislation, violence against women, education, employment, and political representation.

Ezgi Başaran is a journalist and academic visitor at St Antony's College. Since October 2016, she leads the Programme on Contemporary Turkey at SEESOX (South East European Studies at Oxford), St Antony's College.

2pm, Monday 20th February
