Biographical history: Thomas, Noel Edward Ivor (1901-1984) Teacher, Club Secretary and Scout Master.

Born 30 Dec 1901, in Blackburn, Noel Thomas was a teacher at the English School in Heliopolis, Cairo between 1922 and 1949. He worked as Resident Secretary of the Turf Club in Cairo, 1949-1952. In Jan 1952 he was badly injured during the 'Black Saturday' riots. The riots, also known as the 'Cairo Fire' caused extensive damage across Cairo, including the Turf Club, which was burnt down. This led to the termination of his job as Secretary and his return to the United Kingdom. He helped set up and was Scout Master for the 1st Cairo English School Scout Troop which became the Heliopolis National Service Scout Group in wartime (1939-1941).

Scope and content: Papers mainly relating to the 'Black Saturday' riots in Cairo in Jan 1952 and their aftermath, including a personal account of the riots and medical reports, which detail the extent of Noel Thomas's injuries. There is also a history of the 1st Cairo English School Scout Troop during World War II, as well as a history of the English School of Heliopolis Cairo, 1916-1956, accompanied by two annual school magazines. There is a small collection of photographs consisting mainly of images of Noel Thomas.
